Dear Senator McCain,

Dear Representative,

I strongly urge you to tell the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) not to weaken the rules that help preserve competition and diversity among the owners of America's newspapers and radio and TV stations.

One media voice is harmful to me and YOU! if one company owns several media citizens will never get the truth or a balanced opinion. Me as a voter and elected officials could lose big time!!!!

As you know, the FCC is reviewing rules currently for media ownership and is likely to allow big corporations to dominate ownership of media in a particular city or town. If that happens, one company may be allowed to own the local newspaper, several TV and radio stations and the cable TV system in the same community. There would be fewer owners of networks, stations and newspapers nationwide.

Media ownership would be concentrated among fewer companies and the public's ability to have open, informed discussion with a wide variety of viewpoints would be compromised. Plus, it likely would result in higher costs for businesses that advertise in local media, and those costs likely would be passed onto consumers.

The FCC is expected to vote on whether to change the rules on June 2. The public comments submitted to the FCC by individuals have been opposed to media consolidation overwhelmingly. Americans understand that the public interest is not being served by deregulation that reduces competition.

Please tell the FCC to reinstate its traditional media ownership rules for the sake of competition and democracy.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

John,

Being the intelligent man that you are, and having endured the incredible events that you have, I would like to tell you that I have the utmost respect for you. However, most americans rely on television, news papers and radio as their sole means of intelligence. I am sure you can foresee the atrocities that will surely occur if too much control of what we see, read and hear is controlled by monopolies. It is for this reason that I send the following email.

I urge you to tell the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) not to weaken the rules that help preserve competition and diversity among the owners of America's newspapers and radio and TV stations.

just wanted to send a note of encouragement in your stand against these rule changes. It's good to know that at least all five members of the commission weren't bought off by the giant media moguls.

It is more important now, however, to make sure the outpouring of the American people who disagree with this know that Congress can soften this blow. That is the beauty of checks and balances -- hopefully they will see how dangerous this is.

Please continue to inform the American people this fight is not over yet. And let them know that although this panel (you and Mr. Copps notwithstanding) feels they can ignore what the American people want, Congress is not as easily able to brush off the voice of the people.

Thank you for standing up for what you believe is right.

Please put me on any sort of mailing list you or the FCC may have regarding these rules.
